

Elegance on a Grand Scale with Adbri Masonry's New Terrazzo Glass Tiles

Adbri Masonry's new range of Terrazzo glass tiles are the ideal choice for civil and commercial projects requiring an elegant but durable flooring surface.

Architects have been eagerly awaiting the launch of this product to the market, with Terrazzo's extensive array of colour options providing complete control and freedom of choice for those looking to specify a quality hard wearing tile.

Recently released Terrazzo tiles have been welcomed by designers and architects who have quickly recognized the many applications and benefits for large scale civil and commercial projects.

These tiles carry the typical quality the industry expects from Adbri Masonry, and make a stylish flooring solution for shopping centres, airports, foyers, and feature areas of high pedestrian traffic. Terrazzo glass tiles provide a sophisticated look for new developments, and the ability to match almost any colour on the market means Terrazzo can also be used to refurbish old developments, providing a pleasing and easy transition into existing environments.

Terrazzo is available in a standard size of 400 x 400 x 27mm.
